Family Trivia Packet

Can't agree on a film for family movie night? Stuck in the house on a rainy day? Looking for an activity that will keep your kids entertained on a long car ride? Infoplease has the perfect remedy! Challenge your kids to a battle of the minds with Infoplease's printable Family Trivia Packets.

Each packet includes several quizzes that cover a range of topics, such as history, entertainment, geography, and more. This packet is geared toward middle-school aged kids.

Tips

If your family tends to be competitive, you can break up into teams or go head-to-head and keep score. We've provided a hint for each quiz question. The opposing player or team should read each question aloud, and the person or a team member taking the quiz should circle a., b., or c. on the answer sheet.

If you correctly answer a question without the help of a hint, you receive 10 points. Earn five points for a correct answer with a hint. No points are awarded for a wrong answer. Tally your points for each quiz, then add up the total number of points for all the quizzes. Or, create your own scoring system. Just have fun and maybe learn a thing or two.

Who Am I? Quiz

Answer Key

1. c. Charles Lindbergh. Lindbergh made the 33 ½-hour, 3,600-mile flight in his Wright-powered Ryan monoplane, Spirit of St. Louis. He traveled from Roosevelt Field, N.Y., to Le Bourget Field outside Paris May 20–21, 1927.
2. b. Frank Epperson. In 1905, when Frank Epperson was making soda pop, he accidentally left the mixing bucket outside. During the night the mixture froze solid, with the wooden stirring stick standing straight up. Frank started selling Epperson icicles for five cents, later changing the name to popsicles.
3. b. Edgar Allan Poe. Edgar Allan Poe was an American poet, short-story writer, and critic born in Boston, Mass. His intense, mysterious, and often macabre tales and poems reflected his personality.
4. a. Alan Shepard, Jr. Alan Shepard, Jr. became the first American in space on 5 May 1961, when he went aloft in the Freedom 7 capsule for a 15-minute sub-orbital flight.
5. c. Shaun White. Called the “Flying Tomato” because of his flaming red hair, Shaun White is a whirlwind on a snowboard. At the 2010 Winter Olympics, White added a second gold to his collection and debuted a new move: the “Double McTwist 1260”—a move incorporating two front flips and 3½ twists. He renamed it “The Tomahawk.”
6. b. Theodore Geisel. “Today you are you, that is truer than true. There is no one alive who is youer than you.” This is a very Seussical quote from Theodore Geisel. Millions of fans mourned his passing in 1991, at age 87.
7. a. DJ Grand Wizard Theodore. Born Theodore Livingstone in 1962, DJ Grand Wizard, Grand Wizard Theodore, or GrandWizzard Theodore, is famous in the world of hip-hop turn-tablism for inventing and perfecting the scratch and the needle drop. Many of his experiences were included in a 2001 documentary film called Scratch.
8. c. Clarence Birdseye. By 1949, Birdseye had perfected the anhydrous freezing process, reducing the time to freeze foods from 18 hours to 1 1/2 hours.
9. a. George Washington. Sometimes called the father of our country, George Washington was born in 1732, served two terms as president, was commander in chief of the Continental army in the American Revolution, and died in 1799.
