

MyPlate Word Blanks

"Cook-Off Craze"

How to play: Fold the paper in half so that the story is hidden. Read the Word Blanks below and fill in a word for each one. Match the numbered words from your word list with numbered blanks in the story. When you've finished, read your funny story out loud! You can also play with friends by writing down their choices for the word list, adding their words to the story, and then reading their special story to them.

WORD LIST
1. Noun:	10. Orange/red vegetable:
2. Your name:	11. Grain food:
3. Friend's name:	12. Lean protein food:
4. Verb (ending in "ing"):	13. Dairy food:
5. Verb (ending in "ing"):	14. Noun (plural):
6. Green vegetable:	15. Adjective:
7. Noun (plural):	16. Fruit:
8. Noun (plural):	17. Verb (ending in "ing"):
9. Color:	18. Verb (past tense):
	Fold Here
	K-Off Craze " was just around the corner. It was almost time for the annual (1)County School End-of-Year	Cook-Off! (2) and (3) entered themselves in the cook-off. They knew they ha	d a good chance of winning if they used fresh veggies from
Grandma and Grandpa's garden — the secret to	their recipe! They were ready to start (4)!
	, they began adding the ingredients. While (2) washed the (7) (8) a nd
	his, they threw in some grated (10), going crazy
, ,	sure they didn't forget some grains, they added some whole ver, chopped (12) For a finishing touch, they sprinkled some low-fat (13) 	op. Volla ! Summer Garden Soup!
The class of the conductive of the literature of the conductive of	And the second s
The day of the cook-off finally arrived and they
At the end of the day, it came time for the grou
winners. After Runner-Up went to a (15)	and American yogurt, (2) and (3)
"And first place, with the highest score, goes to Summer Garden SounIII". They were so happy:
AND THE CALLELY VOLUME THEY WELL SO HADDY	HIGH HIEV LIO) AN HAVIOUU!