

It's Back to School For You... But Not For Germs!

Summer's over and it's time to head back to school to learn, make new friends and have new experiences but not for getting sick. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, keeping hands clean through proper hand hygiene is one of the most important steps teachers and students can take to stay healthy and in school.

Teachers, when talking to your students about the steps for proper hand hygiene, encourage them to complete the coloring sheet on the back of this flyer and put it on display for everyone to see! Don't forget to scan a copy of it and email it to education@cleaninginstitute.org so that we can add it to our online "Back to School" artwork gallery.

Have you heard about a program that could earn your school national recognition, a cash award, an all-expense paid trip to Washington, DC as well as hand hygiene products? To learn more, be sure to visit www.itsasnap.org.

When Should You Wash Your Hands?

When you are preparing food

After you use the restroom

When your hands are dirty

Before and after your snacks

After you touch animals

When you or someone around you is ill

american cleaning institute® for better living

For more information about hand hygiene, visit www.cleaninginstitute.org. This resource is intended for educational purposes and may be reproduced in whole or part without permission but with credit given to the American Cleaning Institute®.

School is for learning and making new friends...not but not for sharing germs!
Don't forget to wash your hands properly!

Color, scan and send your finished coloring sheet to education@cleaninginstitute.org so that we can add it to our online art gallery!